

AIRBORNE WIND ENERGY CONSORTIUM

The Airborne Wind Energy Consortium unites the stakeholders of the industry into a single focused voice. Our primary purpose is to promote research, development and deployment of airborne wind energy worldwide. The Consortium is comprised of industry firms, academic researchers, utilities, government agencies and other stakeholders who are working to advance the industry and address key industry issues, including:

- providing educational and networking venues
- designing and launching public relations efforts
- lobbying to influence regulatory agencies
- supporting and drafting public policy initiatives

Airborne Wind Energy Consortium Membership Benefits

Collective Strength

A unified industry voice will create economic and political support to foster the growth of the airborne wind energy industry. Combined resources can benefit members of the industry and share in the power of connection offered by the trade group.

Industry Guidance through Consortium Committees

Consortium committees play a major role in shaping industry policies and priorities, guide the Consortium's work and help strengthen the organization's capabilities.

Critical News & Information

Legislative updates and action alerts will keep you informed about the latest policy developments and funding opportunities. The Consortium will keep you abreast of technology breakthroughs and alert you to action you can take to support the industry.

Member Discounts

Based on membership level, members receive complimentary &/or significantly reduced event registration fees and where applicable, priority exhibition space at Consortium-organized events.

Powerful Advocacy

The Consortium will represent the policy interests of the industry by working closely with key policy makers, stakeholders and opinion leaders. We will be working with key renewable energy industry lobbyists to achieve our policy goals.

Invaluable Partnership Prospects

Consortium members also receive an optional listing in the online membership directory to help businesses and partners gain visibility.

Information Resources

As the voice of the airborne wind energy industry, the Consortium serves as a portal for information about integral international policy such as renewable energy incentives, grant announcements and other industry opportunities.

Industry Partners

The Consortium recognizes and represents all facets of the airborne wind energy industry, including a potential research partner, manufacturer, installer or a financier.
